ELKS TO SAY "FAREWELL" TO DEPARTING BROTHERS

DEATH OF MRS. MARY FLYNN, THORBURN

A social affair will follow a short business session of the local Elks tonight, when the members will tender a farewell to Bros. Pruden, Lorne and Meffan, who are leaving for other fields of labor.

Mr. Lorne will likely return to Blairmore, following a six months' leave of absence, during which he will visit his old home in Scotland. Mr. Pruden, we understand, will leave Sunday for Cleveland, to take up an electrical engineering course, while Mr. Meffan is being transferred to Cranbrook and will leave around the first of next week. All three have been most active members of the local lodge and are really indispensable.

DEATH OF MRS. KAFOURY

The death occurred at Calgary on Wednesday, September the 29th, of Alberta May Graham, beloved wife of F. S. Kafouri, of Blairmore, at the age of forty-eight years.

Funeral took place on Friday afternoon, services being held in the Pro-Cathedral, and the remains were laid to rest in the Burnsland cemetery.

It is hoped that Hon. Alex. Ross will maintain the position of minister of public works until the roads programme so ably conducted by him during the past couple of years has been completed.

ALL TRAILS LEAD TO BLAIRMORE WEDNESDAY NEXT

All trails will lead to Blairmore on Wednesday next, October the 13th, when the first Inter-Scholastic Track Meet will be held among the five schools of The Pass—Coleman, Blairmore, Bellevue, Hillcrest and Frank.

This is the first athletic event of this kind that has been held among the schools of The Pass, but the embryo athletes in all the schools are showing great enthusiasm over the event and are entering heartily into the practices, which are being conducted in all the schools.

The events will include both boys and girls. The boys will have the 100 and 200-yard sprints, standing and running broad jump, running hop, step and jump, and high jump. In the weight events there will be the shot-put, while inter-school competition will find expression in the junior and senior relays and in the tug-of-war. The girls' events will be much similar, except that the baseball and basketball throws will take the place of the weight events.

Both boys' and girls' events will be divided into four classes—A, B, C and D—according to weight. In this way it is hoped that all students in the upper public school grades, as well as those in the higher grades, will have a fair chance of showing their athletic prowess.

For the first meet it has been decided to give ribbons for those gaining first, second and third places. Furthermore, a shield will be award-

MR. LORNE GRANTED SIX MONTHS LEAVE OF ABSENCE

The mayor and all members of the council attended the regular meeting on Monday night.

The minutes of previous regular meetings were adopted as read and a small slack of accounts were ordered paid as approved by committee.

Council received no objection of any kind against the decision of Magistrate Gresham in the case of the town of Blairmore versus A. Nelson, a Creston fruit distributor.

This was a case in which action was taken by the town against Nelson for selling goods within the town limits without a license as required for a transient trader under the town's license by-law.

The case was heard before Magistrate Gresham and a conviction was registered, Nelson paying a fine under protest. Application was forthcoming for a stay of the case.

The appeal against this stay case will be heard by MacLeod on October the 18th, when Solicitor S. G. Banfield will appear in behalf of the town.

Permit me to reiterate my thanks to the members of the council for their support and help in this case.

Upon motion, Mr. Lorne was granted leave of absence for six months and Tony Velprava was appointed to fill the position during Mr. Lorne's absence at the same salary.

Councillor Ferguson felt that a waterworks superintendent should be employed, but his motion, seconded by Councillor Sartoris, was defeated. Councillors Gillis, Hays, Paterson and Mayor Farmer supported the motion, which was supported only by the mover and seconder.

The opposing councillors could not see how the town could afford an extra salary of $150 per month or more at the present time, particularly since no provision for such had been made in the last estimate. Furthermore, the appointment could not be made by motion, but by by-law.

Councillor Ferguson formally submitted his resignation as chairman of the waterworks committee. He was advised by the mayor that same would be considered later.

SCOTT NEARING TO BE HERE ON MONDAY NIGHT

Professor Scott Nearing, internationally known author and United States professor of economics, will be in Blairmore on Monday next and will speak at the Orpheum Theatre that evening.

Professor Nearing has just returned from a lengthy tour of European countries, where he has been studying postwar conditions. On the completion of his present tour he is going back to a further period of study in Europe.

STOBER—MACLOSKEY

A pretty wedding ceremony was performed at St. Anne's Catholic church here on Monday afternoon, the contracting parties being Mr. Mike Stober, of Coleman, and Miss Annie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Macloskey, of Burns. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Donovan, of Bellevue.

Following the ceremony, a reception and party was held. The young couple will take up residence at Blairmore.

Thomas Bayburt, proprietor of the C. P. R. boarding house at Crows' Nest was killed when his auto went over the road a short distance west of Crows' Nest station on Thursday afternoon last. His wife and child escaped with injuries. The remains of Mr. Bayburt were laid to rest at Natah on Sunday. He was a native of Lancashire, and was forty-three years of age. Prior to taking over the boarding house at Crows' Nest, he had worked in the mines at Fernie, Michel and Hillcrest.

Watch Your Daughter!

Stratford, Ont.—Dr. Pierce's Favastrine Prescription is the best tonic and nerve stimulant that can be given to a young girl. It is a safe, non-stimulating tonic. When I got to the age where I began to develop, I was very backward. I became so nervous I could not sit still. I was always tired, weak and had severe pains thru my back and head. I was very tired, weak and miserable. The lady where I was staying gave me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favastrine prescription, and by the time I had taken it I was feeling fine, my nerves were good, I got strong, could not gain in weight and never had any more trouble.—Mrs. Stanley Tozer, 183 Railay Ave.

Hurricane Give Warning

Banister Falls and Death-Like Stillness Precedes Storm
Twenty years ago, a storm similar to the recent one that devastated the Florida and Gulf coasts swept down on Pensacola and Mobile with considerable damage not only to these two cities but to the towns and villages for miles around, writes William J. Carver in the New York Evening World. In such a hurricane there is ample warning of the onrushing disaster. Down goes the barometer, then begins a long, certain area, sometimes a swath thirty or fifty miles wide. The low pressure causes a partial vacuum that accounts for the deathlike stillness that precedes the descent of the storm. Air from the areas surrounding the path of the storm rushes in to fill the vacuum and then you have the storm with all its force and vengeance. It is the rush of air from all directions to fill the partial vacuum that causes what is called the West Indian hurricane.

With the passing of sail, he says, there has come a new type of sailor to man the ships, and the traditional "sail" is now only a character of history.

The Commanding Position Of Our Agriculture

By C. W. Peterson

The average person readily gives an intellectual assent to the statement that agriculture is our basic industry and the "backbone of the nation," but usually without any adequate conception of the fundamental facts of the case. It is a mere figure of speech. It is, therefore, well to consider briefly to what extent agriculture has been responsible for Canada's material progress. Forty-one per cent of our net production in the last census year was agricultural; thirty-five per cent was manufacturing; and our forest, mines, fisheries, construction, etc., account for the remaining twenty-six per cent. The eight billions of total agricultural output of Canada represents 30 per cent of her total national wealth.

Canal exports account for 26 per cent, our railway plate, 10 per cent, forests, 5 per cent, mines, 2½ per cent, and manufacturing equipment, 2½ per cent.

It will thus be clear that Canada's agriculture looms up as the largest single factor in her economic life, and the farmers as the largest group of domestic consumers, consequently exercising a commanding influence in the general business conditions of the country. One-third of all revenue freight carried by our railways originated on the farm and another third at least, was represented in carrying commodities of all kinds back to the farm and the agricultural raw material to and fro. The Canadian farmer not only feeds the nation, but in addition such of his products are available to balance our international obligations and create a favorable trade balance.

Besides the millions of farm workers directly engaged in producing, there are other millions earning their living by performing work connected with supplying the implements, tools, shoes, clothing, etc., for the farmer, with the manufacture of raw material originating on the farm and the distribution and transportation of such commodities. Who is bold enough to attempt correctly to estimate the economic importance of agriculture in a country like Canada? It is perhaps well within the mark to assert that at least 80 per cent of Canada's total population, in every walk of life, depend absolutely on agriculture, directly or indirectly. Those who are imposing figures and should be thinking here to speculate on the possible performance of Canadian agriculture were we in the happy position where more than a mere fringe of our agricultural area was on a producing basis. If, for instance, we were producing on even one half of our arable lands, instead of only one sixth, granting a fairly balanced population, all our present economic problems would vanish over night. The time is ripe for bringing such a situation about. We have the undeveloped natural resources, the markets are there, we only need the men to develop them to bring back specimens of the fruit that grows there, the people, but were the people ready for the people, but were the people ready for the land? The report which Caleb and his compatriots were to make will decide the question of geography, but the question of philosophy. It was to test the present capacity of the people of God, to determine whether the heart of Israel was ripe for its inheritance.

God's Word says, "What we do in the trials always depends upon whether we see difficulties in the way of God, or God in the midst of the difficulties." (Dr. G. Campbell Morgan.)

Will Not Reduce Pensions

New Regulation Extends the Principle of the Irreducible Minimum. No further reduction will be made in the pensions of less than 50 per cent, providing that during that period the presence of active disease was definitely established. This announcement was made recently by the Dominion headquarters of the Tuberculosis Veterans' Association, following negotiations with the board of pension commissioners. Last spring the board conceded the justice of an irreducible minimum pension of 50 per cent, for tubercular veterans, in receipt of that amount or over. The new regulation extends the principle of the irreducible minimum rate of pension to those in receipt of less than 50 per cent.

CHAPTER XI

Joanna's Debut

It is only in the great capitals of the world that one may witness, or participate in, a gathering such as Yvonne Coutant delighted occasionally to preside over in her town house of the Avenue. They are not uncommon in Paris, with the Princess of Wales at any time transforming a boudoir, where in the Boulis into an exotic fairytale for a wild, barbare fete. They were brilliant punctuations in the Bohemian calendar of old Vienna, and in London, occasionally, a rampant beauty, perhaps a manouette, newly married to a duke, or a young duchess divorced from one, will celebrate, by turning one night into enough extravagances to keep Mayfair gossiping for a month.

In America they are rarely accomplished. The demondaine of Paris and the diplomat from London are not accustomed to ignoring the barrier, between them when occasion arises. It is an extraordinary hostess, in America, who can successfully bring together all grades of society, not rich and poor, so much, as the good and the not so good.

Yvonne Coutant was one of these. She had no scruples when she opened her boudoir to who came into it. She demanded only beauty, external grace, and a willingness to be an appropriate picture for the shining, golden frame she provided.

"One simply cannot afford not to be in on one of Yvonne's affairs," Mrs. Brownley-Smith of the Polo crowd, repeatedly said. "One's husband is sure to be there, and so is his favorite of the moment. I always go in order to discover who Tom's loving now. It's the only way I have of checking up on the fluctuations of his taste."

"Yvonne's own latest former husband, Alfred Coutant, the novelist, never missed her entertainments. I never missed her entertainments. I get at least four chapters from every one of them," he would explain. "She's awfully good, to let me come—sort of, you know."

So it was that an interesting company moved about among the roses and lilies and daffodils that filled every corner of the spacious house with fragrant baskets of thick, flaming carnations relieving the paleness of the throats of women. And so it was that Joanna stood, arms outstretched that she might realize the line and symmetry of them, before the long mirror in her dressing room, upstairs. The slim body of her was vibrant with the qualities of the day and eagerness for the night. In her eyes were all the seductive, stirring ardor that her mother, meanwhile Joanna, before her mirror, waited to be diminished by the old men and the young men, and their young women and old, downstair.

Yvonne appeared in the doorway. The younger girl gave a little gasp when she saw her. In contrast to the soft white tones of Joanna's gown, Yvonne's was a shining black velvet that clung to the curve of her figure like a sheath, giving her vulvulae and uncovered back shone boldly and half its complement. Her shoulders glistened white.

"You will be something of a sensation, tonight, my dear!" the older woman exclaimed, when Joanna had walked across the room, and had whirled and stood still for her inspection. Joanna was much too happy to reply.

Yvonne's appearance among her guests was not at all to be envied. She began to go for the breakfast days of her boudoir, built by formidables. Women who had gathered in stiff little groups to discuss other women or the escapades of other women were swept away to their first dances and their first drink and the first round of their preferred flirtations. The big drawing room had been made into a dancing room. In the winter garden the only lights were flickering lanterns hidden among the foliage. The tall palms made screens across corners of the drawing and sitting rooms, and in the half-ways. "Yvonne," said Mrs. Brownley-Smith, "knows that two people never have funnier for themselves than you and I."

While Joanna stood before her mirror, Andrew Eggleston sat at the long carved table in the sun-bombed library of his house—which was not on the Avenue, but still on it, stubborn ghost of the days when the Avenue was jealous of its exclusive rank. Joanna's eyes caressed the loneliness her mirror reflected; a loneliness that epitomized, as in alabaster dust, all the pretences of her kind. Her teeth tinged with the promise of adventure. Dimples danced their provocations about her mouth. Through the glass, the lollions youthful limbs cavorted at the feet of the mother of the couturier's mask of them, gold brown hair, hugged close to the rest, and delicately arched eyebrows shaped as only a painter could conceive them—lips and arms and bare shoulders made a marvelous ensemble of elegance.

Andrew Eggleston, in the heavy library room, also eyed a vision—also the figure of a girl, and of Joanna's age—but of a long time ago. The girl the banker watched looked down at him, from a canvas, held in its massive frame over the great fireplace. There was no dancing in her eyes, but a wistfulness that seemed to reach out to the man who gazed, like a quivering beam of mellow radiance. The lips were blood red, and full, and shaped for a kiss, but they were not scarlet, nor voluptuous. They were as if there was no such a thing as a lip stick. The hair was brown, shimmering, as Joanna's, but it was not bobbed, but plied in glorious opulence.

The banker, who could have been young when this girl in the gold frame was a child, could not help but smile his brow, to break a spell with which the girl, in the painting, encompassed him. Then his attention fell to bits of paper spread before him like the leaves on Joanna's dressing table. One by one he picked them up and read them—read the cancelled checks which signified the purchases Joanna had made that day, checks that had been hurriedly cashed so the girl might take her purchases away with her. They totalled thousands, many thousands. At the jewelry store alone

Joanna had spent more than a tenth of her million dollars. It was all to go in the cancelled checks.

"The play begins! It is to be a comedy, after all!"

It was said quietly, evenly, but there was just a pause in the tone that might have been repressed exultation. The speaker stood behind the banker, a figure in fathoms evening clothes, silk hat, white gloves. About his lips played the writh of a smile—a cynical smile. In his eyes there was amusement. Just at that moment an ancient butler appeared at the library door and spoke:

"You can have a seat, Mr. Brandon."

Eggleston started. "You will be seeing her, tonight, then?" he asked calmly.

"Yes. She will be plunged into the abyss tonight, by her new friend, Yvonne Coutant. She will swim like a siren mermaid through the sorrows of half a score of old men whose lips still molten with the sight of her, and half a hundred young men who will make wagers as to which will be first to break her. The end is in sight tonight."

Eggleston did not reply for a moment. He raised his glance again to the girl in the painting. Then he said, heavily:

"Still, I'd like to see her—her, in this room. Arrange, some way, to bring her tomorrow."

Brandon bowed slightly, and went out of the room and to his car which waited at the curb. "He'll give his order briefly," "on the Coutant's."

Meanwhile Joanna, before her mirror, waited to be diminished by the old men and the young men, and their young women and old, downstair.

Yvonne appeared in the doorway. The younger girl gave a little gasp when she saw her. In contrast to the soft white tones of Joanna's gown, Yvonne's was a shining black velvet that clung to the curve of her figure like a sheath, giving her vulvulae and uncovered back shone boldly and half its complement. ### Canadian Pacific Exhibits

Canada Being Advertised Throughout The World Through Agency of C.P.R.

One of the most potent ways in which the Canadian Pacific Railway is advertising Canada both to the Dominion itself and to the rest of the world is through the work of the Exhibits Branch of the Company, and some idea of the latitude and comprehensiveness of the efforts of this branch may be gathered from the fact that at the time this is written seven exhibitions are being staged simultaneously under its direction—at the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto; at the Sesquicentennial Exhibition at Philadelphian; and at fairs at Quebec, Sherbrooke, London, Ontario, Peterborough and at Saint John, New Brunswick. And this is but a part of the unceasing work which is being performed by the Company in keeping Canada and the Canadian Pacific Railway before the eyes of the world.

For years the Canadian Pacific Railway has participated with an outstanding display at the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, and the exhibit, annually improved, is declared to be finer than ever this year. Months of study on the part of directors, weeks of labor on the part of painters, engineers and mechanics, have contributed to the fine artistic presentation, startling for its clever illusions and unique lighting effects. The whole presents a very complete survey of Canada, its scenic attractions, agricultural and industrial resources and commercial life. A model train, electrically operated and illuminated, specially brought from the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley, where for two years it was a centre of attraction, takes the visitor through a cross section of Canada from Quebec to Vancouver. Such general attention has been paid to detail that central points of the British Isles, Montreal, the Twin Cities, Winnipeg, Banff, Vancouver and other cities are easily recognized.

Having regard to the increasing national character of the Canadian National Exhibition, and the manner in which it is attracting exhibitors and visitors from all parts of the globe, this is to be considered a national work of world-wide advertisement, in line with the policy adopted by the company in 1911 when inaugurating exhibits, of neglecting no opportunity or bringing Canada forcibly and appealingly to the attention of the world. It is in a way comparable to the work the company performs periodically by representing through elaborate and expensive exhibits at the world's largest expositions.

Some of them have been the New York Land Show in 1911 and 1912, the Chicago Land Show in 1913; the San Francisco Exhibition in 1914 and 1915; the Foire de Lyons in 1918; the New York Chemical Exhibition; and the Tokio Peace Exposition. For two years the company was represented through a handsome pavilion at the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley. Following this, space was taken at the New Zealand and South Seas Exhibition for an elaborate picturization of the Dominion. At the present time "Treasure Island," brought from Wembley, is an outstanding attraction at the Sesquicentennial Exhibition at Philadelphia. Almost without interruption Canada is being advertised in some part of the world through the Company's participation in a world exposition.

The Exhibits Branch makes it point to every year install exhibits at all the larger fairs throughout the Dominion, provincial, municipal, and civic, bringing to the attention of the people of one section of the country the beauty and resources of other sections. In addition it maintains thirty-five permanent exhibits in great centres of population in the United States and Canada, as well as others in the British Isles, with reproductions of Canadian scenery and samples of Dominion products which are potent advertisements of the country's opportunity to the people of the Republic and the tourist to Canada.

The Exhibits Branch has rapidly developed to be a very important phase of the operation of the railway, of tremendous value to the Dominion at large, with benefits that are many and wide-spread though frequently they are difficult to trace. Appropriations for this branch of work are now considerable; the men engaged in its operations are highly specialized, great artists, mechanical and organizational abilities called into play. All this that Canada may be adequately represented wherever large crowds of people are brought together, and its opportunity, kept ceaselessly before the world.

Has Faith In Alberta

Editor of Cosmopolitan Magazine Buys Ranch Near High River

An interesting addition to Alberta's popular population is Frazer Hunt, associate editor of the Cosmopolitan Magazine. Mr. Hunt has been making frequent trips to Alberta in recent years, especially at the time of the Calgary Stampede, and has become an enthusiastic exponent of this province. In order to show his faith in Alberta, in some concrete form he has purchased a ranch in the neighborhood of the Prince of Wales' ranch near High River. It is Mr. Hunt's intention to spend some time each year on his Alberta ranch.

"I was doing everything I could think of without any help. A friend recommended Cuticula Soap and Ointment so I purchased some, and in four weeks I was healed, after twice taking it. Some box of Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. Edith Brown, 37 Fortyne Pl., Barrie, Ont.

THE NEW CABINET

The cabinet formed by the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King is now complete with the exception of the portfolio of naval defence which is expected to go to Col. Ralston, of Halifax, when a parliamentary seat is secured for him.

The government is now constituted as follows:

Prime minister and minister of external affairs: Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

Minister of finance: Hon. J. A. Robb.

Minister of justice: Hon. Ernest Lapointe.

Minister of railways: Hon. C. A. Dunning.

Minister of interior: Hon. Charles Stewart.

Minister of public works: Hon. J. C. Elliott.

Minister of agriculture: Hon. W. R. Motherwell.

Minister of trade and commerce: Hon. James Malcolm.

Minister of customs and excise: Hon. W. D. Euler.

Minister of health and D. S. C. R.: Hon. Dr. J. H. King.

Minister of immigration: Hon. Robert Forke.

Postmaster general: Hon. P. J. Venot.

Minister of marine and fisheries: Hon. P. J. A. Cardin.

Solicitor general: Hon. Lucien Cannon.

Secretary of state: Hon. Fernand Rinfret.

Minister of labor: Hon. Peter Heenan.

Minister without portfolio and government leader in the senate: Hon. Raoul Dandurand.

Parliament is to meet early in December. Be on the Christmas vacation the Speech from the Throne and the last supply bill can be disposed of and when the house meets again in January there will be no delay in considering new legislation. It is expected that parliament will prorogue by Easter. In parliament the Liberal-Progressives are to be absorbed into the government ranks, as well as Henri B'uras and Messrs. Neil, Woodsworth and Heaps. The remaining Progressives from Saskatchewan and Alberta will form a distinct group and sit on the opposition benches. Premier King announces that Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux and Hon. Hewitt Bostock will again be captains of the house of commons and senate, respectively.

A journalist has figured out that the new King cabinet is the youngest since confederation, the average age being 33 years. Scotchmen predominate with eight portfolios held by men of Scottish ancestry. The religious affiliations are taken from records compiled mostly before church union and show there are seven Roman Catholics, six Presbyterians, two Baptists, one Anglican, one United church and one Lutheran. These figures include Hon. J. E. Sinclair, who is to be added to the cabinet.

The ministers, their ages, national origins, occupations and religious denominations follow:

Premier King, 52, Scotch, premier, Presbyterian.

Hon. J. A. Robb, 67, Scotch, miller, Presbyterian.

Hon. C. A. Dunning, 41, English, farmer, Presbyterian.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, 45, French-Canadian, lawyer, Roman Catholic.

Hon. J. C. Elliott, 54, Scotch, lawyer, Baptist.

BATTLING FOR DOLLARS

A few days ago the Sesquicentennial stadium at the great exhibition in Philadelphia was occupied by some hundred and thirty thousand people, while John Dempsey and Gene Tunney, an ex-marine, to see which could bash his opponent into insensibility for the trifling sum of half a million to the champion and a little less than half that sum to his challenger, fought it out.

It was, presumably, a contest for the heavyweight prizefighting championship of the world.

The battle had been arranged, after three years of squirming, dodging, manipulating, bargaining, bulldozing and b'at'ant babbling, all designed to arouse the lastings of the fighting "fan" to see some blood spilled peacefully in the ring.

The fight was a purely commercial proposition throughout, from every angle. The "sportsmen" of the modern pugilistic ring do not risk their invaluable hides for anything under hundreds of thousands.

So long as the public en masse is stupid enough to hand over its good money to see two highly trained animalistic men indulge in a bashing match, such things must be. But old days, when pugilists fought for the honor of the belt, have gone, it is to be feared, never to return.

Now the dollar sign is over the head, around the neck, down the chest and down the back of every prize fighter. The entry of that sign marked the departure of the true spirit of sport from the ring.

The days of Mendoza are gone forever. It is one of the unpleasant signs of the times. Formerly men fought for the pride of holding a title.

Now money sets the standard in far too many things, and to many it must appear lamentable that "the many art" as it used to be called, has become the art of money-making by a knockout!—Family Herald and Weekly Star.

MOTORING IS BAD FOR THE DOG

No matter how much your dog likes motoring, if you think anything of him, keep him home.

Motoring isn't good for him, says Dr. William J. Lentz, professor of veterinary anatomy at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia. Riding the running board is especially bad.

Joe, riding for dogs, Dr. Lentz says, causes conjunctivitis or what is known as inflammation of the mucous membrane of the eye socket. Rhinitis is another result of joy riding for dogs. That's inflammation of the membrane of the nose.

If the dog's eyes water easily, you may know he has the first ailment. If he sneezes easily he has the second.

Rev. H. D. Gordon, formerly of Medicine Hat, has been inducted as pastor of Crescent Heights United church, Calgary.

Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, 45, French-Canadian, lawyer, Roman Catholic.

Hon. Charles Stewart, 58, Scotch, farmer, Anglican.

Hon. Robert Forke, 66, Scotch, farmer, United Church.

Hon. James Malcolm, 46, Scotch, manufacturer, Presbyterian.

Hon. Peter Heenan, 52, Irish, locomotive engineer, Roman Catholic.

Hon. (Dr.) J. H. King, 54, Scotch, doctor, Baptist.

Hon. Raoul Dandurand, 65, French-Canadian, lawyer, Roman Catholic.

Hon. F. Rinfret, 43, French-Canadian, journalist, Roman Catholic.

Hon. Lucien Cannon, 39, French-Canadian, lawyer, Roman Catholic.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, 66, Irish-English, farmer, Presbyterian.

Hon. W. D. Euler, 51, German-Canadian, publisher, Lutheran.

Hon. P. J. Venot, 63, Acadian, insurance agent, Roman Catholic.

Hon. J. E. Sinclair, of Queen's, P.E.I., who will be in the cabinet, is 47 years of age, of Scotch extraction, a farmer and a Presbyterian.—Ex.

A NEW DECALOGUE FOR HUSBANDS

Franziska Bock, Austrian writer, has just taken a cue from Moses and drawn up a new decalogue for husbands. Here are the commandments:

1. Flirt with your wife as you do with other women.
2. Do not assume she knows it, but tell her often, "I Love You."
3. Thank her occasionally for the beauty and comforts that surround you.
4. Don't assume she is yours; woo her always.
5. Don't be superior; let her share your inner life.
6. If you respect her beauty or intellect, at least consider that she is the mother of your children and treat her accordingly.
7. Pay attention to her sacrifices; self-forgetfulness is her life.
8. Be faithful.
9. Don't over-praise other women or hold them up as models.
10. If you can't obey all nine of these, at least obey one—and you will still be unique.

THE EDITOR!

Who weeps with you when you are sad, and laughs with you when you are glad, and swears with you when you are mad (?)

The Editor, who has to be both kind and wise, and never (hardly ever) lies, and when he does creates surprise (?)

The Editor, who owns a heart as well as cheek; is possessed of a spirit proud, but meek; and lives on forty cents a week (?)

The Editor, who rarely what he says, but wears a liver pad in his pants, when mad subscribers kick and prance (?)

The Editor, who bears in a patient, gentle way, those who just drop in to say: "Your paper's doggone poor today!" (?)

The Editor, who loves the cuss who will not bark, but comes at ten o'clock to talk and stays till 4 and will not walk (?)

The Editors, who, when they get to heaven, will look and smile when they're by St. Peter's shoo-k.

The Editor—Ex.

A minister, while passing a group of convicts at work on the country roads, became very much depressed at the wickedness of the world.

"My good men," he exhorted, "we shou'd strive to mend our ways."

"Well, wot you think we're doing," asked No. 3289, "digging fish worms?"

Essays are to be in the hands of the judges by October 31st.

The teacher was endeavoring to make clear to the youngsters the grammatical tenses: "My father had money," she pointed out, "is in the past tense. Now Grace, what tense would you be employing if you say, 'My father has money'?"

"That would be pretense," said Grace, very soberly.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

The school fair, which was postponed, will be held on Friday of this week.

Threshing has begun again here, after being held up for several days on account of weather conditions.

M. A. Murphy and Grant Smith attended the banquet of the Grand Lodge of the Royal Arch Masons on Wednesday afternoon in Coleman.

Little Ethel Robinson, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Hillcrest hospital, under Dr. Rose, is reported as favorably progressing.

After a successful operation for appendicitis under Dr. Connor in Galt Hospital, at Lethbridge, Miss Isabel Morrison is expected home the latter part of the week.

On Monday night, the Women's Institute gave a farewell party for Mrs. Harry Hannan in the Masonic Hall. Mrs. Hannan has been a member of the Institute here for years, since having filled the office of president for a term. Her efforts were untiring and nothing ever came up to her great help. She will be greatly missed in the midst of this organization, and when she is settled in her new home in Calgary it is the wish of the members that she be affiliated with the Calgary branch of the Women's Institutes of Alberta, and that in her loss will be their gain.

One impressive part of the evening was the presenting of a gift of a pyrex pie plate in a silver stand, with a silver pie knife, together with four sterling silver candle sticks. Mrs. Bouthillier made an able and feeling speech, stressing the time when Mrs. Hannan came among us as a bride from the Mother Country, marrying here, as did, and rearing her family of three children in the little village, and that Miss Hilda, the eldest, who has shown marked talent as a pianist, may have every chance of success in her chosen profession and that the two younger ones, Tom and Billie, may take advantage of the opportunities that their mother has considered wise to give them. The evening passed off pleasantly with games, dancing, singing, etc. Some of the outstanding numbers were a song by Miss Ruth Hetherington, piano duet by Misses Martha and Ketha Tustian, piano solo by Mrs. Bouthillier and Clair Snyder, while the music for the dancing was furnished by Clair Snyder, Arthur Tustain and Doolie Easterbrook. A dainty luncheon was served by the members of the Institute at midnight, when "Auld Lang Syne" and "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" brought this evening, which will long be remembered, to a close.

Frank Weir and Jean Schurin, of Frank, had good luck duck hunting in the Pincher Creek district, bringing in about thirty-five birds.

The Presbyterians of Lille held their harvest Thanksgiving services on Sunday last, conducted by Rev. W. T. Young, of Frank, and Rev. A. S. Tod, B.A., of Blairstown. Wilie—I heard my dad say they smelt it.

A lady travelling through California for the first time saw a fig tree and said to the guide: "My good man, what kind of a tree is that?"

He said, "Lady, that's a fig tree." She said, "Oh no, it can't be a fig tree." "Yes, ma'am, that's a fig tree."

"Oh," said the lady, "I thought the leaves were larger than that."

Sam, the negro driver of an ox team, saw a little lizard crawling up a tree. He flourished his long whip and very dexterously snapped off the lizard's head above the ground.

A white man said: "Sam, take a crack at that," pointing to a hornet's nest.

Sam grinned and replied: "No sub, no sub, boss, them fellahs is awganized."

F. S. Kegoury returned from Calgary on Sunday morning.

A Scotchman was about to start a round of golf and was looking for a caddy. At length he picked out one who seemed to have the qualities he required, and he asked him: "Are ye guid at findin' balls?" "Yes," answered the boy. "Then find one, and we'll begin," commanded the Scot.

In Texas they tell how, years ago, a New Yorker there imported a famous wolfhound in order that he might attain wealth by catching wolves, there having been offered by the state authorities "scalp money" to the amount of $10 in the case of each wolf caught.

Some dyed-in-the-wool Texans were invited to witness the first chase. They followed many miles through the prairie grass, but without getting sight of either wolf or hound. Finally they came to a wooded spot, where a native was chopping.

"Did you see a wolf and a hound pass just now?" cried the New Yorker.

"Yes, sir; they just passed."

"How was the race?"

"Pretty hot—nip ad' tuck. But the dog was a little bit ahead."

Growth Of Wheat Pool Movement

The farmers of Western Canada in less than three years, have established the largest co-operative organization of its kind in the world. The Canadian Wheat Pool, with its three units in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, now has a total membership of 125,000 farmers, who control 13,250,000 of the 21,000,000 acres sown to wheat last year in the three prairie provinces. It is handling the sale of the greater part of the wheat produced in Canada, and externally, exports more wheat than any country in the world.

The first of the three wheat pools commenced business in the province of Alberta in October, 1922, and at the close of the first pool year on July 15, 1924, had handled 21,500,000 bushels of wheat sown in its members.

Meanwhile Manitoba and Saskatchewan were organizing pools. In the fall of 1924, they had perfected provincial organizations and the three provinces then merged their selling strength into one grain marketing organization, known as "The Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited." This agency is incorporated under a Federal charter, with very wide powers. Its function is to take delivery of the wheat from each of the respective provincial pools and to place it on the markets of the world in such a manner as to secure a price commensurate with the natural law of supply and demand. Each of the three provincial pools is responsible for gathering the wheat of its own members and placing it at the disposal of the central selling agency, which is controlled by a board of nine directors composed of the president, vice-president and one director of each provincial pool.

The largest proportion of the wheat is sold by the selling agency to importers and buyers in different countries of the world, for the agency has direct selling connections with every wheat importing country and its own representatives in 51 ports of the world. The funds which accrue from the sales are disbursed to the members of the three pools. This method of handling wheat provides a large volume through one agency and reduces the cost of operations to a minimum.

It is difficult, if not impossible, to estimate in dollars and cents the actual increase in the price of wheat attributable to the operations of the wheat pool, but the Pool has increased the average 40 per cent of Canada's exportable surplus, has the opportunity of preventing a glut of wheat being rushed on to the market and creating a glut which invariably forces prices down. The strength of the Pool lies in its stabilizing power and in its facilities for selling in great quantities and in all countries.

This vast co-operative organization of farmers grew out of the experience of fixed prices for wheat established by the Canadian Government during the war, regulated by an official body known as the Wheat Board. Immediately after the war the farmers of Western Canada urged the Government to maintain the Wheat Board, but as it had been brought into being and had functioned under a War Measure Act, the machinery for its maintenance automatically passed on to existence with the signing of the Peace Treaty. The wheat producers of the Canadian West, learning that the Wheat Board could not continue, began to realize the necessity of an organization of their own to handle the marketing of their wheat in a way that would prevent a wide fluctuation and secure a better stabilization of prices.

Through the Pool the wheat is handled at cost and therefore at a saving to the farmer. The Central Selling Agency, with its direct connections is able to eliminate some of the handling charges between producer and consumer that are incidental under any other method of marketing. Moreover, the Pool relieves the farmer of the necessity of guessing the right time to sell his grain and assures him of the average price for the year when the wheat is sold. This orderly marketing avoids the disastrous effects of the flooding of the market in the fall which prevailed under the old system.

The Wheat Pool in Western Canada is a notable example of the advancement made by the farmers of this stage. Already it has shown the possibilities and advantages of co-operative marketing. Under the old system, the farmer sold his wheat and took what the market offered. In the Pool system, he delivers his grain when convenient and obtains the average price of the selling period, together with the saving in the handling costs. The Pool price to every member is the price at Fort William, less handling charges and freight charges. The latter, of course, vary, according to the length of the haul.

With the development of Canada's agricultural areas, only one-fifth of which are as yet under cultivation, the growth of the Canadian Wheat Pool may reach a magnitude never before conceived in co-operative marketing.

Farm Settlers From U.S.

Active movement of farm settlers from the United States to Canada continues, according to the department of immigration and colonization. Eighteen offices are maintained in the United States and all report increases for the month of August, with the agency at Fargo, N.D., heading the list with 272 farmers, who, with their wives and children, make a total population of 322. They brought with them to Canada cash and effects valued at $445,355.

Germany Now Thinks War Is Calamitous

International Strife Is Insanity on a Wholesale Scale

It was the fashion, only a few years ago, to glorify war and to create in the minds of young men an impression of its necessity. Germany was particularly eager to give its youth a strong martial spirit and to hold before them military ideals. If Stresemann speaks for his countrymen—and there is no reason to doubt that he does—the Germans have had a complete change of heart. The appalling sacrifices of the war have taught them, as they have taught other nations, that war is not glorious but always calamitous. International strife is insanity on the wholesale scale. It is to our natural and right that young men should go to the defense of their country when it is threatened; it is noble to lay down one's life in a just patriotic cause. But if wars can be prevented as they can, if the proper state of mind is cultivated, it is the duty of every young person to help the movement along.

RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS

May Obtain Relief by Enriching the Blood Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

In the days of our grandfathers, rheumatism was a common and avoidable penalty of middle life and old age. Almost every elderly person had rheumatism as well as many people in their thirties. Then rheumatism was due to exposure to cold and dampness, and it was treated with liniments and hot applications which sometimes gave temporary relief but did not remove the cause. In those days there were many rheumatic cripples. Now medical science understands that rheumatism is a disease of the blood and that the good red blood any man or woman of any age can defy rheumatism. There are many, many elderly people who have never had a case of rheumatism and those that have have kept their blood in good condition, and there are many who have conquered it by building up their bodies with the good red blood enriching qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It is becoming every year more widely known and the more general use of these pills has robbed the medical profession of a large number of patients.

At the first sign of pain, impure blood protects itself against the ravages of rheumatism by Dr. Thomas' Pink Pills. They have helped thousands if you give them a fair chance, though not diaphoretic you. Their value in the case of rheumatism is proved by the statement of Mr. Finlay Beaton, of the U.S. who, when asked if it is a duty to tell of a cure of rheumatism, said: "Yes, it is a duty to tell of a cure of rheumatism."

Matthew W. Stirling, of Berkeley, Calif., one of the leaders of the expedition, described the bush men as unusually friendly.

The pygmies, he said, talked in undertones or whispers and seemed afraid of being too obtrusive. They were not timid, but quiet and intelligent and always cool and collected.

Upon first thing they did was to give us all a present. The presents consisted of their small bows and arrows, arm bracelets, bananas and betel nuts.

They smoke tobacco, sweet potatoes, bananas and pigs. They brought us a pig and all gathered around to make a ceremony of killing it.

Jean Claude Lessard, who has been food controller at the Chateau Lake Louise for the past summer has been awarded a scholarship at Harvard University by the Province of Quebec Government. Mr. Lessard has had a particularly brilliant career at McGill University during the past two years. He will continue his study of railway economics at Harvard.

Mr. Lessard also holds the position of food controller at the Canadian Pacific Hotel Algonquin in St. Andrews, N.B., for three years. He is not yet twenty-two years old.

Strange New Pygmies Found

Scientists say New Guinea Bush Men Were Friendly

In dense mountain jungles never before successfully penetrated by white men, the Dutch New Guinea expedition of American and Dutch scientists have discovered an entirely new group of pygmies. Details of the discovery were received from the Associated Press correspondent accompanying the expedition. The dispatch was carried by a bush runner.

Entering a country in which previous expeditions had been decimated through fever and hardships, the scientists, after four months of travel, came upon the strange small people living quiet and secluded lives, hemmed in by rugged jungles, covered mountains and cut off from the rest of the Papuan tribes.

A Wonderful Discovery

Swiss Scientists Find Group of Radioactive Stars

Two Swiss scientists, Doctors Kolodar and Desseals, who have been living in a tent for the last month on the summit of Mount Jonathan, Geneva, at an altitude of 13,466 feet, making astronomical observations, have made a remarkable scientific discovery. They say they found that a certain group of stars send out extraordinary force of rays of light which radioactive force is far stronger than radioactive rays.

They say the scientists hope to capture and control these rays for a scientific medical purpose. The scientists, owing to the cold weather, were obliged to interrupt their investigations and have descended to Interlaken.

Farmers Have Received Patronage Refund

Saskatchewan Farmers Benefit by Pool Elevator Shipments

The distribution of $476,814 as a patronage refund to the farmers who utilized Pool Elevator facilities in Saskatchewan last crop year, will be welcome news. It represents 2 cents per bushel on all grades of wheat shipped through the 89 houses of Sask. Pool Elevators Ltd., last season, and 1 cent per bushel on coarse grains. 1½ cents per bushel will be refunded on platform wheat shipments to pool terminals; and ½ cent per bushel on coarse grain so shipped. Last year's handling charge on wheat being 4 cents, the refund will reduce same to a two cent rate.

Claimed By Ireland

British National Anthem and "Yankee Doodle" old Irish Tunes

"Yankee Doodle" is not American at all—it's Irish, according to Dr. Grantham Flood, an Irish authority on musical history. He asserts that "Yankee Doodle" was originally an Irish air known as "All the Way to Galway." Dr. Flood, the British national anthem, Dr. Flood says, also is an old Irish tune which originated about 1555 and has been going strong ever since.

"The disturbance is in a solar latitude 23 degrees north, coming around the east side of the sun. Many photographs have been taken and very rapid changes are taking place," Professor Flood said.

Sunspots are not generally visible to the naked eye, he explained, unless ground over vast areas.

Storms On The Sun

Many Rapid Changes Taking Place
says Chicago Professor

Violent storms are raging on the sun as well as on earth at present, says Professor E. B. Frost, director of Yerkes Observatory of Chicago. Gigantic sunspots, visible to the naked eye through smoked glasses, give proof of the upheaval on the faraway planet he said.

Magnetic storms and northern lights may result from the distant storms, although the exact result will follow, the professor explained.

Farm Settlers From U.S.

Active movement of farm settlers from the United States to Canada continues, according to the department of immigration and colonization. Eighteen offices are maintained in the United States and all report increases for the month of August, with the agency at Fargo, N.D., heading the list with 272 farmers, who, with their wives and children, make a total population of 322. They brought with them to Canada cash and effects valued at $445,355.

Aged Farmer Is Killed

Was Owner of 82 Quarter Sections in Saskatchewan

Death came instantaneously to Stanley Clark, wealthy aged farmer of the rural district, who was found to have been struck by an English. The late Mr. Clark was 70 years old, and was owner of 82 quarter-sections in Saskatchewan. The newspaper reports record the fact that the deceased had been a recluse since 1944, and "during all that time he had lived alone." It should also be written into the record, that the late Mr. Clark was a valued and respected member of the Wheat Pool, having signed a contract on the 29th of August, 1923, his number being 65-030.

RUM RUNNING PACT BETWEEN BRITAIN AND U.S.

Washington.—The new rum smuggling agreement with Great Britain, negotiated at the time of Assistant Secretary Andrews' visit to London last summer, has been declared effective as from September 29.

The agreement was made operative through an exchange of notes between the Washington and London governments. While the text of the agreement is held in confidence, it is known that it provides administrative cooperation between British and United States authorities in the prevention of illicit liquor trade between British and United States territories.

Canada's Ambassador to U.S.

Matter Will be Subject of Discussion at Imperial Conference

Ottawa.—The relationship of Canada's proposed minister plenipotentiary at Washington to the British ambassador there will probably be the subject of discussion between Premier King and the British Government when Mr. King goes to London soon. As pointed out by Premier King some days ago, the appointment of Canada's representative at Washington will not be made until after a discussion in regard to the duties of the new office-taker place. Hon. Vincent Massey, who will be the first Canadian minister plenipotentiary in the United States capital, is going to London soon. The Canadian ministers will be in London soon and the position to be assumed by the Canadian ministers will be discussed.

Military Occupation Of Germany Is Hindrance

Described as Humiliating Now That Germany is Member of League

Berlin.—The German papers of every political shade view the German incident in which a French officer killed one German and wounded two others, as proof that the military occupation system constitutes the greatest hindrance to a French-German understanding. As long as foreign troops are on German soil, they say, brawls and friction are likely to occur, and one effect might be to wreck the whole work of reconciliation by means of Briand and others in their conversations at Geneva and Their.

Continuation of the occupation is felt to be particularly humiliating now that Germany is a partner with her former enemies in the League of Nations. The press is especially emphatic in demanding that measures might be adopted corresponding to the spirit of the Locarno treaties.

Will Apply The Remedy

New Minister of Customs Says He Believes in Action

Edmonton.—"We find out as completely as possible what's wrong, and then apply the remedy" is what W. D. Ender, newly appointed minister of customs in the King Government, is going to do when he takes up his duties at Ottawa, he said yesterday. "That's all that could be expected from a man in my position just now," he added. "This is not the time to talk but to act."

Will Retire From Public Life

Whinney.—The Ottawa correspondent of the Manitoba Free Press says: "Information obtained in Ottawa today is to the effect that Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen is not interested in any political proposal to accept the Canadian proposals to accept the Canadian government in British Columbia or elsewhere. He is determined to retire from public life and will not be deflected by offers of positions of lesser importance than the one he is resigning."

Will Consider Steamship Contract

Has Removed Civil Service From Politics

Successful Move in Manitoba

Winnipeg.—In order to retain the Civil Service from politics and to raise the standard of work have been successful in Manitoba, and now are meeting with success in the federal field, according to speakers at a session of the Citizens' Research Institute's convention here.

The reforms instituted, it was declared, are growing more and more popular with politicians, civil servants and the general public alike.

The old idea of the old saying, "The Victor belongs the spoils," is giving way to the more honorable conception of "the best shall serve the people," declared a paper by William Foran, secretary of the Canadian Civil Service Commission.

J. W. Fleming, Civil Service Commissioner for Manitoba, explained the organization and economy in the province. Manitoba civil servants now number 1,307 members. Re-organization had cut down the number from over 1,500 and efficiency had increased. Promotion, he said, was made from within the service in almost every instance.

Speaking from long Parliamentary experience, W. F. Cockshutt, Bradford, Ont., said the patronage system had been nothing but a "vote loser" and not a "vote catcher."

Major Hume Crown declared the tragedy of the Civil Service was that of poor pay, which he hoped to see remedied.

Has Faith In Canada

Lord Darling Has Unbounded Optimism Regarding Our Future

Toronto.—They can no more stop this Dominion from becoming a great power in the world than they can dam the "Horse Shoe Falls," declares Lord Darling, British justiciar here in an address to the Canadian Bar Association, in which he expressed unbounded optimism in Canada's future. "Any one who has been in Canada as I have cannot help being convinced that it has a wonderful future. I only wish it had been born in on everyone, as it has been born in on me. And Canada is not the only Dominion in the Empire. The Empire will develop there can be no doubt about it."

Would Help Politicians

Combining the Human Voice With Moving Pictures

London.—Government leaders, having been successful in showing themselves to the people through the movies, may now combine with the movies feature the transmission of their voices to the public.

Following its recent widely displayed film showing cabinet members at work and at play, the Government has acquired a new invention which coordinates the human voice with the movies. Already Sir William Jowson-Hicks, Home Secretary, has appeared in the movies with a speech given by means of the new device.

TAKE STEPS TO STOP SMUGGLING ALONG BORDER

Ottawa.—Measures for the suppression of smuggling on the international border will be one of the chief considerations in the Canadian customs probe when it resumes shortly.

The order-in-council which enlarges the commission from one to three judges has been issued. It gives the commission the same powers which were possessed by the committee of the House of Commons which began the probe last February. It calls for the continuation and completion of the inquiry into smuggling in Canada and further charges the commission to find out whether the treaty of June 1924 between Canada and the United States, which provided for the suppression of smuggling along the international border is being carried out according to the declared intent thereof and as to whether any amendment to the said treaty is necessary or desirable to ensure the suppression of smuggling."

A MEETING OF THE CANADIAN LEGION (British Empire Service League) will be held in the classroom on Tuesday evening, October 12th, at 7.30.

ALL EX-SERVICE MEN ARE HEARTLY INVITED to attend as it will be the 20th anniversary of the formation of the Legion, which shall be carried on in Blairmore. The past year has been a very successful one financially, but very little interest has been taken in the Legion by the society by the members and the executive committee, so that it will be in the interests of all concerned to close the club if no greater interest is taken in it.

For 1925, we do not wish that Blairmore and district should fail to do their share in looking after the welfare of the ex-service men, or the widows and orphans of such; but we have an interest in the Legion, and that this post of the Legion should be closed sooner than allow it to degenerate.

Come and discuss the matter at 7.30 p.m. on Tuesday, October 12th.

On behalf of the Executive, GEO. MEEFAN, President.

J. R. GRESHAM, Secy, protom.
